

-New Year Pengu-

*In an endless desert of ice lived a young penguin
He was happy, wandering through the white landscapes and swimming through the icy cold water
Hunting for fish every day, enjoying life as it was
And then came the day of penguin birthday, when all of a sudden, a thought came up
Followed by another, and another, building an idea in penguin head
And he realized, that this day was the beginning of something new
And he rejoiced and then burst into song*

Pengu: Birth is a beautiful feeling
Embrace all the changes and ways it opens for you
A new world is created, every time you blink
And a new you is born, every evening and morn

Into a new year I was born
Free from the stones of the old mountain wall

Life is a precious treasure
Enjoy it with all your soul
See all the changes every moment
Freeing you from your old form

Into a new year I was born
Free from the stones of the old mountain wall
Into a new year I was born
All of the sins of the old age are gone

-Magic Menu-

*There, lying on the ground, glowing in a warm, orange light, lied a menu card Pengu picked it up... he never saw anything like it in his life before
"Read me" was written on the cover... so pengu opened it and began to read...
The menu told him of the lands of the humans, far beyond the ice, and of their lifes
As pengu read, the letters slowly were drawn together in the middle of the page
At first, he only saw a big black stain... then pictures were forming on it
A scenery... a dark club, filled with people that were standing in front of a small stage...
Waiting... waiting...*

-The Rainbow Fairy-

The Red Rubber Horse:

Running down, a pollen poet searching for mistletoe
So meet the point through the line
To see a planet swam away
To see a planet swam away
In the summer day, the summer day
Behind the sun, behind the black
To see a planet swam away

Here you came to see me

The heaven is filled with cozy flashy waterfalls
Whispering through the ears of a brand new ball
Unknown for some little changes they in a hollow height
You break through my mind

In the crowded hour
It feels for one time a big timber become uniformed bowels
You are warm and smooth still dropping down...down to my dreams

You're eyes are like a rainbow fairy
You're hand is like a music to my skin
Please touch me again like a flying train
You're just like summer rain

Behind the sun, behind the black I can hear it through you're sound
The splashing words the sparkle light in the spirit drops and founds

You're eyes are like a rainbow fairy
You're hand is like a music to my skin
Please touch me again like a flying train
You're just like summer rain

Pure and clean to my Warm and unique to my
A round waltz in the wind in my (pure and clean to my)
A blizzard and a honey cake to my (warm and unique to my)
To my simple signboard in the sky

(You're just like the summer rain
You're just like the summer rain
You're just like the summer rain
Dip down and raise again)

-Pengu's Dance (Of Love And Hate) -

*And suddenly, pengu was there, in the middle of the club, surrounded by all these people
And he danced and sang with them... listened to their stories*

People: I have been exposed to two strange kinds of fever
Arousing my spirit and drowning my mind
In a complete destruction of balance inside
A muse to the poets of men for the light and the more dark of the art
Emotions help defining what you are

Now now, I know it can be quite exciting to love
A feeling so beautiful, cheerful, a cloud full of flickering, shivering, golden black sparks
And i know, you all you really hate to hate to hate, 'cause you're feeling BAD!
Dance to the poems of life, to stories of love and hate
Stories of love and hate!

Kiss me, touch me, love and caress me
Express to me the feelings that you feel (encrypt for me the code of love)
Open the window, show me your anger and your hate, there's no need to hide
I want to know how you are inside...

Pengu: Dance with me and show me your world, what are you scared of?
Share with me the feelings you hide, deep inside!
Dance with me and show me your world, open the gates up
Let me in, now don't be afraid, hold me tight!

People: I see you want me to TELL YOU ALL THAT I feel, you want me to SING MY SONG FOR You – No! I know, we all KNOW! WE ALL KNOW!
I know, you know: we all DON'T KNOW HOW IT'LL END!
CONFUSING EMOTIONS!
A RIFT IN TIME!
ESCAPE THE CONCLUSION!
AND DANCE WITH ME ONCE MORE!

I wish I could lay all the guilt on you babe
I wish I could put all the hate on you babe
Aren't you responsible, aren't you the core of all this Aren't you the bitch that gave me a painful dream to miss

Oh the wrath and oh the fury, painful and illusionary
Dreams of fire and of hate, of sceneries that'll never be
I wish you death and I wish you pain and I wish myself that I could fly away
Into clouds, so my eyes would stop to see so clear

Chill out, relax, don't take it so serious
Feel the vibe, feel how you're drifting away
Life's a game, and someday you'll learn the tricks
You will hear this again, later on... and...

So tragic, kinda magic, all the things that human do
All the facettes of feelings, the shouts and the wailings in the middle of this crazy dance
Some folks know, and some folks don't, and some folks just don't care
To think about - whine about - cry about all the stories of love and hate

Pengu: Dance with me and show me your world, what are you scared of?
Share with me the feelings you hide, deep inside!
Dance with me and show me your world, open the gates up
Let me in, now don't be afraid, hold me tight!

Dance with me and show me your world, what are you scared of?
Share with me the feelings you hide, deep inside!
Dance with me and show me your world, open the gates up
Let me in, now don't be afraid, hold me tight!

*Pengu noticed a girl that was sitting lonely in a dark corner of the club
She seemed sad, so pengu went over and talked to her
Her name was kimmy, and she told pengu about the downsides of love*

-W-

Kimmy: What shell I do
All the time I am thinking about you
Alice speaks to me: "It's a dream"
Forget the eggs and ears in space
You walk straight through the ice of trace

What shell I do
All the time I am checking your breath
You swimming in my tear ground
To get your heat a disease
Your darkness knocks you down

What shell I do
All the time I am crazy about you
You don't deserve my love

But you'll get through my mind
Sticking needles into my plants

You're so tiny in this room
The time will crush you down
Like the dead end, you're dead head, you're sad head

What shell I do
All the time I fuck my brain out of you
The table breaks down like cheese in the cake
My head explodes in the dining room
You on my mind
I wouldn't mind, you're so kind ...

Later, kimmy and pengu went to another club, to see a band that was known for the social-criticism in their lyrics. And pengu thought it would be a great way to learn more about the humans and their culture

-They Shit In Your Garden-

Take a bow and stand on it
The back freaked out and screamed
Forget the last life
Because they shit in your garden

Look to the strange people
With eyes and hearts
Forget the snowing feelings
Because they shit in your garden

Forsaken, forgiven be just a big pigeon
The elephants are growing now
Shake up your swinging greens
And be careful under the shiting trees

Rules changed in the lifes
So step aside to ski and drink
Be careful in the heights
There you get your next strong fights

Break through the shitline
You'll breathe again
Break through the shit souls
You'll dream again ...

Forsaken, forgiven be just a big pigeon
The elephants are growing now
Shake up your swinging greens
And be careful under the shiting trees

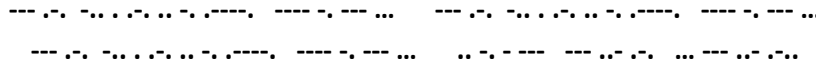

Confused by the ongoing swirl of emotions, that entered his world, pengu left the club and walked aimlessly through the dark streets... and slowly he drifted into an illusionary world inside his mind To find peace

-Microcosm-

Pengu:

In my own world...
In my own world...
Microcosm!

-Orderin' Chaos-

-Everyday's Pathos-

Pengu:

How can... they live... like that...?

How... can they do... that?

To live... in this... extremes

Left, right... high, low... good, bad...

The change... so fast...

How can... they not... go mad?

Slowly we're fading and slowly we're going

Slowly we're fading and slowly we rise

Slowly we're fading and slowly we're going

Mad

Every... single... day they...

Die a... little inside...

But still... they live... on...

How can... they live... on

Where... do they... take...

The power... from...?

How can... they still... Live...

...on?

My heart fades away

Like the songs of an old summer day

Long forgotten, but never cured

Won't my soul escape?

Lonely, yet still brave

Driving towards the overkill

This pathos that's keeping us awake

The curse from stormy yesterday

Every day we're trapped inside

Dark and cold this grave

Never-ending everyday

Silently we die inside our everyday

-Regeneration-

Feel the stream
Feel the blood
Inside your veins
Inside your days

Feel the love
Feel the hate
Inside your heart
Inside your blood

See now the storm is over
The winds are calm and smooth again
You thought you've seen a dreadful wasteland
Take a step back and look again
On this calm plains

I have raged for so long
I was depressed for much too long
Everything that I feel
Is something that I feel
Just something I feel

Hear my voice... hear my words...

I just want to be there to heal you as you cry out in pain
I just want to be there to heal you as you cry out in pain

Hear the words of life

I just want to be there to heal you as you cry out in pain
I just want to be there to heal you as you cry out in pain

Regeneration
Regeneration
Regeneration
Regeneration

-Leaving The Ice-

After hours, the chaos faded away, and pengu mind became clear again. Finally he understood, how all his emotions were only powerful in the moment - and if he just took a step back and looked at them from outside, even the darkest feelings would fade... at this moment pengu had returned to the ice... but he knew he still wanted to learn more about the world.

So he decided to leave his home and take a journey to the unknown lands across the ocean...

Pengu:

Leaving the ice
Leaving all the stress behind
Into a new world
Learning things that i don't know

Leaving the ice
Leaving my old life behind
Into new minds
To things that I don't know

Sun will guide me on my way
Sun will shine his light down on me
Sun will shine on me and I see
Sun will guide me on my way

Leaving the ice
Across the world to the lands of men
Swimming to see
The country of eternity

I'm leaving the ice
I'll travel 'round and meet new people
I'll see through their eyes
Learn how they are inside

Sun will guide me on my way
Sun will shine his light down on me
Sun will shine on me and I see
Sun will guide me on my way

Sun will guide me on my way
Sun will shine his light down on me
Sun will shine on me and I see
Sun will guide me on my way
